MINNESOTA FARMERS FIGHT RAGING FLOOD

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.]
Ortonville, Minn., June 23.—Farmers along the Minnesota river bottoms from here to Montevideo worked Sunday night in water up to their waists to save livestock and household goods which had been swept away by the flooded Minnesota and Whetstone rivers. Latest reports do not change the damage estimate of $500,000.
The entire Minnesota river bottom is one huge lake from four to five feet deep and a mile to two miles wide, a result of the terrific rains of 72 hours. Thousands of acres of some of the most fertile land in the state, where most grains and sweet corn were growing, are inundated. Along the Whetstone river, which winds through the Dakota hills near Summit, many steel bridges were demolished. Wagon roads are almost impassable. Farmers living along the river, lost heavily.
The Milwaukee road's dam at Milwaukee, which supplied water for the locomotives, was severely damaged. Property loss included in the half million dollar estimate is embraced only in the area between Summit and Appleton.

Voice of the People

To the Editor:
I want the people of Janesville to know that the charges made about me in the statement made by Mayor Welsh in the Gazette last week are unfounded. I am not a drunken bum, as charged. I have proof that I was not drunk in South Janesville at the time mentioned. I did not make a rough house nor did I throw any bodies. Last Friday morning I went to the mayor's office to tell him the truth and he would not listen to me. He said my room was worth more than my company.

HIGHWAY SYSTEM IS GIVEN BOOSTS BY 1919 LEGISLATURE

[BY F. A. CANNON
Executive Secretary Good Roads Association of Wisconsin.]
This is the first of a series of four articles covering the important highway legislation enacted by the 1919 session of the legislature. A reading of them will show that many vital changes have been made.
A survey of the highway legislation enacted by the 1919 session of legislature shows that many important bills have been passed, making changes in our highway laws, townships, county and state. The outstanding measures enacted or changes made are incorporated in the following bills:
The passage of a bill enlarging the state trunk highway system from 5,000 miles to 7,500, revising legislation regarding bridges, regulating the dangerous signboard and, and re-adjusting the allotment of the state trunk highway maintenance fund.
A bill providing for a state tax of $1,700,000, annually for three years, to be spent for a state tax, to be spent for 1920, 1921 and 1922, to be spent for the maintenance of the United States government.
A bill regulating highway traffic, the size, weight, tires and speed of vehicles.
A bill completely rewriting our town road laws, and eliminating our old road district, pay-your-road-taxes-in-labor-system. This is a highly important measure.
The joint legislative highway committee worked steadily on the many highway problems, with the active cooperation of state highway engineer A. R. Hirst. The legislature showed a most friendly attitude, and the 1919 session accomplished much toward highway improvement.

The first big piece of highway legislation passed by the legislature provided that the state trunk highway system should be increased from 5,000 to not to exceed 7,500 miles. In selecting the new mileage the same procedure was followed as in laying out the original system. The determination will rest with a joint legislative committee of five members, including in consultation with the Wisconsin highway commission, and hearings will be held throughout the state to determine where additional mileage should be placed on the system.
In other bills incorporated additional financing for the construction of the state trunk highway system. Two years ago, when the original state trunk highway act was passed, the federal aid act, it was necessary for the state to raise the sum of $1,925,000 to meet the federal appropriation of an equal amount. This was raised by the diversion of the three quarters of the automobile license fees, which therefore went to the counties, to the state highway fund, and the raising of the tax to 10 per cent. This law also required that the counties should raise an amount equal to that raised by the state and federal government, making a total of $5,776,248 for construction. This was raised by the diversion of the three quarters of the automobile license fees, which therefore went to the counties, to the state highway fund, and the raising of the tax to 10 per cent. This law also required that the counties should raise an amount equal to that raised by the state and federal government, making a total of $5,776,248 for construction.

Under an act of congress passed last March increasing the federal appropriation, Wisconsin was allotted, in addition to the original amount, $5,091,788, to be spent in the three years 1920, 1921 and 1922, for highway construction. To do this, a bill has been passed by legislature providing for the levying of a tax of $1,700,000 available for the three years 1920, 1921 and 1922, and making a total of $5,776,248. As in the original state trunk highway act, the counties are required to raise an equal amount, making a total of $15,776,248, made this available by the present legislature for construction on the state trunk highway system, the federal government, the state, and the counties each paying one third. As under the act of two years ago noted above, $5,776,248 was made available, this means a total of $21,051,508 spent or to be spent on state trunk highway construction in the years 1918 to 1922 inclusive.

The state trunk highway act of 1917 marked the beginning. It gave us the skeleton of a great state highway system, provided for the road-marking, provided for the patrol maintenance, and made available the initial appropriation for construction. The additional appropriation will enable construction to be pushed rapidly.

RAND SCHOOL RAIDED BY STATE TROOPERS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, June 24.—State troopers acting for the Lusk joint legislative committee investigating alleged seditious activities in this state, raided the Rand school for Social Science this afternoon at the instance of the state attorney general, and opened a safe believed to contain "written and printed matter of a revolutionary and seditious nature."

SOLDIER BONUS BILLS TO FEATURE WORK IN LEGISLATURE

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, June 23.—Soldier bonus legislation was featured in both houses of the Wisconsin legislature this week. There is every indication that the senate intends to pass a soldier bonus bill appropriating $15,000,000 to aid soldiers. This money will be raised by a direct state tax. The original idea on this subject is contained in a substitute bill offered by Senator Henry A. Huber, Stoughton. It provides for the $15,000,000 tax levy and that soldiers shall receive a bonus of $10 a month for the time in the service. The Wilcox substitute is similar, except that it would exempt from this tax all property owned by soldiers, their fathers, mothers, wives or widows. In an opinion by Attorney General Blaine the exemption under the Wilcox bill is held illegal and unconstitutional.

The Fullen substitute extends payments to Red Cross nurses, as well as soldiers and marines and sailors. All these measures came up for consideration in the upper house, Tuesday, and the problem will undoubtedly be settled in the senate this day. The senate provides that "any person who was honorably discharged or on a furlough from any branch of the military or naval forces of the United States, and who at the time of entering such service, which must have been prior to Oct. 1, 1918, was a resident of the state and who now desires to enter one of the higher branches of learning in the state may do so and shall be entitled to $30 a month while in attendance as a student. No person who receives the benefits of this measure shall receive any other bonuses or benefits offered by the state."

There is also before the assembly for passage this week, with every indication that it will pass, theatcher bill appropriating $1,000,000 to put soldiers on land of Wisconsin. Under this plan the state will buy the farm, stock it and improve it and hand it over to the soldier at the cost of the soldier has 40 years to make the repayments with an interest charge of 6 percent.

There are a number of bills in process of passage relating to the erection of memorials to soldiers. One of the measures provides for state aid in the building of armories, which shall contain an honor roll of the soldiers from that vicinity who fought in the war against Germany. This latter measure has the approval of the governor.

DEMPSEY OBSERVES HIS 24TH BIRTHDAY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Toledo, June 24.—Jack Dempsey celebrated his 24th birthday today. This law story and the Wisconsin industrial home for women. Codification of laws relating to workhouses, and prison industries and labor.

Willard planned to resume boxing today after yesterday's layoff. The champion considers his progress satisfactory and thought that a day of idleness would be beneficial to his condition.
Dempsey considers honors even for the jolting Sgt. Bill Tate, his negro sparring partner, gave him in their workout Sunday. Dempsey put Tate completely out yesterday. It was the first time in three years that Tate had been felled. Jack Malone, the St. Paul welterweight, made his first appearance as a sparring partner for Dempsey yesterday. On account of Malone's weight, Dempsey made little attempt to let his punches go. Malone's work, experts say, will speed up the challenger.

WHITEWATER HAS RAINCOAT FACTORY

Whitewater, June 24.—The new raincoat factory opened up in the Bower block yesterday. A deal has been closed with the Kinzie Rubber and Manufacturing company, a company affiliated with Rosenwald & Co. and machines were sent here. Wet and machines are now ready. Joe Bronstein is the local man in charge and hopes to have 75 hands on the job soon. An order for 25,000 coats has been placed here. It is the desire of the management to turn out 1,000 coats a week.

The many friends here of C. F. Hill were grieved to read of his death yesterday. He was principal of the East side school and head of the manual training department. It was through his efforts that the latter was started here. Mr. Hill also started the swimming school and playground movements and many other things for the welfare of the growing boys and girls. He spent 12 years here.

Mrs. Earl Lucas and children are visiting in Michigan. Mr. Lucas, who has been connected with the condenser here for several years, goes to Darien tomorrow to take charge of the plant there.
Miss Margaret Waldie, Chicago, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Waldie, Sunday.
Julius Johnson received word yesterday of the death of his sister, Mrs. Emma Rutherford, Los Angeles, Cal. The body will be taken to Clear Lake, Ia., for burial.

Mrs. Ed. Deards, Milwaukee, spent several days this week with her sister, Mrs. George Paust.
Mrs. John Weiss and Miss Nell Weiss, Janesville, spent Sunday with friends here.
Mrs. Francis Higgins is visiting relatives at Marquette this week.
Miss Gladys Johnson has gone to Burlington for the summer.

Yankee Land King Owns 14,080,000 Acres

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.]
London.—Even the Duke of Sutherland, with his 900,000 acres, and Lord Leverhulme, with 560,000 make a poor showing in comparison with Henry Miller, the American land king. Miller, who emigrated to the States as a penniless lad from Wurttemberg, now owns estates covering 14,080,000 acres, or more than twice the total area of his native land.
Some ingenious admirer has made an elaborate calculation which shows that Miller could start at the Mexican border, travelling by team, to British Columbia, and camp every night of the journey on his own land.

HIGH SCHOOL TUITION BILL IS ONE OF 35 SIGNED BY PHILIPP

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, June 24.—Gov. E. L. Philipp has signed the Kuckuk bill doubling the non-resident tuition fee for high school students. There are many communities of the state without a high school. The old law provided for the payment of the tuition of pupils from these communities to high schools at a rate of $1 a week. An investigation was conducted and it was found that a high school education could not be furnished for that figure. There was considerable controversy between the houses as to the correct tuition fee. A weekly tuition of $2 was finally agreed to.
Gov. E. L. Philipp signed 35 bills during the past week, as follows:
Revising all laws relating to the state board of control.
Fixing the time when said statutes took effect and repealing certain prior statutes and session laws.
Providing for state inspection and regulation of apiculture and must be reported to the board of health.
The state board of control may give such instruction in occupations, as it may deem proper under its contract as it shall deem wise.

The Gazette Stands Ready to

Janesville and Vicinity a Big-

GREETINGS.

The citizens of Janesville extend to Chief Mulcahy the glad hand. They want to co-operate with him in his efforts to reorganize our police department and will stand back of him in every move he makes for the betterment of this community.

Chief Mulcahy has a great opportunity to give this city one of the best police forces in the state of Wisconsin. The city is growing and in a few years will double its present size. He comes to us at the time the development is just getting under way. When progress gets into full swing, he can be relied upon to make Janesville bigger and better.

It should give encouragement to Chief Mulcahy that he has the full support of the best men and women of a city which has such a promising future. If he can, and we are sure he can, untie all the old strings which have knotted themselves about the department, he will have earned the gratitude of every citizen who has deplored
the methods under which former policemen were compelled to work.

Mayor Welsh has declared that an attempt will be made to get men for the force who have been in the army and who have had discipline. Chief Mulcahy has been learning the advantages of discipline for years and with good, clean-cut young men as pupils, he will doubtless be able to give this city a force worthy of the name.

Chief Mulcahy, we are with you.
Go to it!

THE RIGHT SITE.

Business economy and humanitari-

care should be taken in the selection of the site for a tuberculosis sanato-

had long years of experience in the treatment of the disease, the length of time required for successful treat-

and contented, and the further fact that fresh air and sunshine are important factors in the sanatorium treatment, and that the patient should be encouraged to live out of doors as much as possible make it imperative that the natural surroundings of the sanatorium should be attractive.
There should be plenty of shade, freedom from dust, protection from prevailing disagreeable winds, and a pleasant outlook.

The fact that the sanatorium commissioners of the Rock county board of superiority is now engaged in considering various sites for the county's new sanatorium and will report at a meeting of the board in July makes of special interest a bulletin on "The Establishment and Conduct of a Tuberculosis Sanatorium" written by Dr.
Charles B. Slade, visiting physician of the municipal sanatorium at Oshkosh, N. H., and just issued by the department of health of the city of New York. In the chapter on site he says:

"The contour of the ground is an important consideration when choosing the site for a tuberculosis sanatorium. It is desirable to have it located on ground that lies above the rest of the surrounding country. It should be in such a position that the ground continues to rise on one of three sides above the location of the building, if such is obtainable. An ideal contour of ground would be a gently sloping table land surrounded on three sides—west, north and east—by a continuous crest high enough to act as an effective windbreak."

"Although the site is not always possible to have an ample natural gravity supply of pure water, it is a great advantage in many ways. The contour of the land chosen for the site should,
when possible, be such that it has a protected and ample watershed at a higher elevation than the tallest building of the sanatorium. The contour of the land also has an important bearing on sewerage disposal. It is so important that the surroundings of life
in every way conducive to cheerfulness
as in a tuberculosis sanatorium.
Therefore, every factor which directly or indirectly affects the patients must be considered. So that about the building and on the lawn help to purify the air, as does all foliage, and keeps the air-suspended dust down to the minimum. It is also pleasing to the eye and encourages an outdoor life.
The location and soil should both combine to facilitate surface drainage.
There should be enough trees of ample foliage placed conveniently to protect patients from the broiling sun while resting out-of-doors in the summer.
Experience has proved that it is a mistake to place a tuberculosis sanatorium too near to other institutions."

AT FOUR SERVICE.

The Gazette's principal function in this community is to render service.
Every employee of the paper is impressed with the need to be ready at all times to give its readers every courtesy and aid possible.
In its efforts to be useful to the ever-growing number of readers, the Gazette has added another service which will be of great benefit to those who will avail themselves of the opportunities to use it. It has established an information bureau at Washington, D. C., under the direction of Frederic J. Haskins, from which will be disseminated the information which is obtained by thousands of government experts. The bureau is established at the national capital because from there all the agencies of the government work and the opportunity to get useful knowledge is greater. This bureau's resources of information are as great as the resources of the government.

The Gazette's bureau is able to give to its readers all that information which it obtains. There is no cost.
The service is rendered in addition to the regular news and feature service which this newspaper gives its readers. Questions will be answered direct from the Gazette bureau if a postage stamp is enclosed for the reply.

In other columns of this paper we are giving more information concerning the bureau. We invite all our readers to avail themselves of the opportunity to get as much benefit as possible from it.

A COMMUNITY LOSS.

This community suffers a distinct loss through the death of Charles Fremont Hill, director of the vocational school. Mr. Hill was not only an educator of ability, but he had that unselfish desire to render service which placed him in the front ranks of local welfare workers. Many a boy and girl who had strayed from the paths of righteousness owe to Mr. Hill the opportunity to come back and make good.

Although a man of small means he made financial sacrifices many times
to give aid to a wayward boy or girl.
In many instances he provided clothes
for a youth who had gone wrong, so that he would be presentable when seeking work. Many a job has been obtained for both boys and girls who desired "another chance."

He was loved by those whom he had helped and his loss will be keenly felt by them.

It is such men as Mr. Hill who aid in the substantial upbuilding of a community.

ASK US

The Gazette maintains an information bureau at Washington, D. C., under the direction of Frederic J. Haskins. Questions will be answered on any subject. The desired information will be sent to the Janesville
Daily Gazette Information Bureau,
Washington, D. C., and enclose a stamp. The letter will be answered by four bureaus.

Following are some of the questions
and answers handed:

Q. Are yeoman (1) still being enlisted by the navy? A. B.
A. The navy department tells us that it has discontinued enlisting women.

Q. Is the charge that the United States is using farmers to Canada correct? E. W.

A. American farmers are going to Canada in considerable numbers, says
the department of agriculture, but these numbers are more than offset by the number of Canadian farmers who are coming to the United States.
The balance is in favor of this country.

Q. What are some of the inventions that have been made by women?
J. H.

A. Comparatively few inventions have been made by women, but the following are recorded in the U. S. office: cook stove, sheet-iron shovel, ice cream freezer, sad-iron, fountain pen,
washing machine, toaster, pocket book, spring seat for furniture, and cotton dress pattern, dust pan, portable oven, vegetable masher, attachment for heating kettles and boilers by gas.

Q. When will the next National G.
A. R. convention be held? Will there be special railroad rates for the G. A.
R. men and their families? F. G.

A. The national G. A. R. convention will be held at Columbus, Ohio, beginning Sept. 8, 1919. The U. S.
railroad administration has made an announcement that there will be a reduced rate of one cent per mile for members of the G. A. R. and their families.

Q. What is Pettersen? R. K.
A. Pettersen or Peter's Pence was the annual contribution for the support of the papacy. It consisted of the payment of a silver penny by every family that possessed land or cattle whose value was 30 pence. In England this payment was abolished
under Henry VIII. and the value countries did not survive the reformation.

Q. How should I proceed to borrow money from the federal farm loan board? L. K. J.

A. Address a letter asking for information to the Federal Farm Loan bank in that city in the following list
which is nearest you: Springfield, Mass.; Baltimore, Md.; Louisville, Ky.;
St. Paul, Minn.; Omaha, Neb.; Wichita,
Kansas; Houston, Texas; Berkeley,
Calif.; or Spokane, Wash.

Q. Into how many historical periods is the English language divided?
J. M.

A. There are three leading periods:
The Anglo-Saxon, 449 A. D.-1100
A. D.
The Middle English, 1150 A. D.-
1500 A. D.
The Modern English, 1500 A. D.-
present time.

Q. What was the first coin to bear
the motto "In God We Trust"? H. T.
A. The two-cent piece coined in 1864 was the first coin made to bear this motto.

Q. Was there not a mummy bird
in history? W. J. N.

A. The U. S. Biological survey informs us that in Egypt there was a species of hawk, held to be sacred, and frequently prepared as a mummy and placed in ancient tombs.

Q. Is there a process of preparing cabbage so it will keep by a drying method? L. H. D.

A. Farmers' Bulletin 984, of the department of agriculture, gives directions for drying cabbage as well as cauliflower, turnips, spinach, celery,
and many other vegetables and fruits.
A copy of this bulletin will be furnished on application to our Washington information bureau.

Q. Can fruit be canned without sugar? N. E.

A. The department of agriculture says that all fruits can be successfully canned for future use for jelly making, pie filling, salad purposes, etc., without the use of sugar. This may be done by simply adding hot water instead of hot syrup.

THE ENDURING FINNS.
"Time is always before one," says
an old Finnish proverb, and "God did not create in a hurry" is another.
The Finns, who are particularly fond of the ruling philosophy of Finland. Although enjoying an invigorating life,
the Finns are not without their share of nervous affliction called by Nietzsche
as the "Will-to-power," which constantly picks the Anglo-Saxon into aggressive action. In Finland life proceeds slowly and deliberately. It is something to be endured rather than pursued.

To an American, who is apt to have a somewhat exaggerated idea of the value of time, this is particularly apparent. When you go into a Finnish restaurant, for instance, you may just as well settle down and prepare to spend the whole evening.

"Strax," says the Finnish waiter polite, as he takes your order.
"Strax" is supposed to mean "immediately" does not come anywhere
nearly meaning to the Finn what it does to us.

No catastrophe has the power to shake the Finn from his natural poise and passivity. It is this imper-meability that has kept Finland Finnish though conquered and exploited by other nations. When the Russians began the same Russifying process
in Finland that they tried in Poland,
they encountered only a terrible me-tacity. The Finns, who are not easily conquered, are not easily won.

There was no active resistance, but the people dressed themselves in mourning in all the churches, and all the places of assembly were closed.
A petition was drawn up and sent to the czar. The czar answered this petition by taking away the Finnish postage. Thereupon, the Finns had a black day. The czar printed and passed it side by side with the Russian stamp until the Russian government became exasperated and refused the mails to letters bearing such stamps.

Finlanders have argued that this mildness of the Finnish proletariat is due to the fact that women have always had the vote and that the reason of the greater numbers, have been able to dominate politics. Because as it may, there is something to be said in favor of meekness. Just look at the Finns, you can't convince them that they will be right here
"inheriting the earth" long after all other nations have died from nervous exhaustion.

RETURN OF THE RUBBERNECK.

Peace has been signalized in Washington by the return to his favorite haunt of the rubberneck.

Washington has been one of the greatest rubberneck towns in America. The rural American who has a few days off and wants to take a trip is more likely to go to Washington than to any other city within a few days' ride.

Where near the same distance of his home, because in Washington there are so many things to be seen.

Of course, New York has its sights,
and even Boston can boast a few, but neither of these cities has the numberous and easily accessible wonders of the capital.

For the born sightseer there can be no stamping of the feet on the capitol and the White House. A diligent rubberneck can potter around either of these places for half a day, and see something new and astonishing every minute. The national museum is another strong drawing card, and the Washington monument is just as good a thrill as any skyscraper.

During the war, the rubberneck
business fell off to exactly nothing.
Where formerly a willing guide or a peddler of postcards stood, the traveler encountered instead a policeman or a detective. If he tried to enter the Library of Congress with a clean collar and a toothbrush in a straw suitcase, he was suspected of harboring bombs and searched accordingly.

And the hotel clerk, instead of welcoming him like a brother, told him coldly that he might get a room without bath three weeks from the following Tuesday.

New Washington is almost "back to normal." The rubberneck wagon, the June bride, and the man who asks the way to the White House are once more in our midst.

Mr. James Durkin and Miss Or-

about her waist, when the railing broke and they were precipitated into the water. Miss Durkin immediately showed

After having done this he

Let's keep our home in Laughterland,
Where tyranny gives no command;
Let's keep all hate and greed away
And dedicate its ground to play.
Beneath its roof let nothing mean
Disturb the peace of love serene.
Let us not burden it with care,
Nor shelter needless troubles there,
But may our home, by every test
Become a symbol of our best.

Let's keep our home in Laughterland
Where kindness reigns on every hand;
Let's fill it full of small delights
Of happy days and merry nights.
Let us not move it into town Where restless men march up and down

Forever seeking gold and fame,
May business never come to claim
A room beneath its humble roof,
Let's keep our dwelling commerce
proof.

Let's bolt the door and bar the gate

Rains Fish During Storm Out in Kansas Town

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.] Lawrence, Kan., June 24.—The champion "fish story" is told here by residents and verified by Professor E. Kester of the University of Kansas. It "rained fish" during a storm. Following a heavy storm the other morning a large number of minnows an inch or so long were found floating in the gutters. Their bladders were burst. Professor Kester is commenting on the fact, said that it was perfectly possible for minnows to be rained from the sky. He explained that they were carried into the air by water spouts or whirlwinds over cheeks, and held there by strong air currents in the same manner as clouds. The bursting of the bladders was due, he said, to the fact that the air pressure in the higher altitude is lower than on the earth or in the water.

HENRY KLEIN SEEKS PENSION ON BASIS OF $1800 A YEAR

Mayor T. E. Welsh said today that no steps would be taken by the present administration to pay Henry C. Klein, ex-head of the Janesville department, a pension on the basis of $1,800 a year. Mr. Klein, who at the time of his retirement was drawing a salary of $1,300 as fire chief and $500 a year as city electrician, has applied to the pension board for a pension of $1,800 a year.

Mr. Klein contends that he received an increase in pay Feb. 4, 1914, which gave him $1,200 as fire chief and $500 as electrician. During that period and up until Feb. 20, 1917, he paid in the pension fund at the rate of $1,400 per year. Feb. 20, 1917, he was granted a salary of $1,800 a year as fire chief and $600 as electrician. He states he then paid in the pension fund at the rate of $1,800.

Shortly before Mayor Valentine retired from office Mr. Klein made application for a pension on the $1,800 basis. The matter was held over pending a decision by the attorney general.

Mayor Welsh states that shortly after he took office Attorney General Blaine ruled that Mr. Klein was only entitled to a pension at the rate of $1,300 a year.

Mr. Klein has refused to accept any payments on this basis. Mayor Welsh in discussing the situation today issued the following statement:

"It was clearly the duty of the existing officers at the time Mr. Klein was given his increase in salary to have been made a pension which was bound to arise and they should have made an agreement with him whereby he performed the duties of electrician gratis and received $1,800 as fire chief."

"The present administration must grant the pension on the ruling handed down by the city attorney and attorney General Blaine. Mr. Klein has either must get a decision from Judge George Grimm that his salary was $1,800 and if he does it will be either fully paid or he must accept the award of $1,300 on the pension board."

"I also want to say that Mr. Klein is surely entitled to all money he paid in the pension fund beyond the legal requirement. The burden of proof is on Mr. Klein and not to the members of the board. They are liable individually for any money which they pay out wrongfully. They have no other choice but to pay Mr. Klein on the basis of $1,800 a year."

A meeting of the board will be held this afternoon at which time a communication from Mr. Klein will be received and he will be able to explain his position. Mayor Welsh said that no further action would be taken until Mr. Klein had established his right to a pension on the $1,800 basis.

DR. NOLEN WILL BE IN CITY TOMORROW

Dr. John Nolen, Cambridge, Mass., city planner who several months ago was engaged by the Chamber of Commerce to work out plans for a greater and better Janesville, will arrive in the city tomorrow morning to remain until Thursday. He will work in cooperation with Edward Amerphol, chairman of the city planning committee of the Chamber of Commerce. It is probable that a meeting of business men with Dr. Nolen will be arranged for tomorrow afternoon. Definite information as to the meeting will be available at the Chamber of Commerce tomorrow morning.

F. J. Mulvihill, assistant to Dr. Nolen, arrived in the city today to make a survey of a few days. He was in conference with Amerphol this afternoon.

'MA' AND 'PA' BURDICK COMING HERE FRIDAY

"Ma" and "Pa" Burdick are coming to Janesville Friday in the interest of the B. C. campaign to raise $500,000 in Wisconsin, $11,000 in Janesville, for the Salvation army. They will arrive at 8:15 Friday morning and will remain throughout the day. They will speak at the band concert which is scheduled to be held in the court house park in the evening.

"Ma" is the Salvation army worker who received the cross of St. Andrew, cooking for the soldiers under fire. "Pa" (Ensign F. O. Burdick, Houston, Tex.) chopped the wood and rigged up the ovens.

BAND CONCERT FRIDAY IF FUND IS RAISED

Janesville will have a series of weekly concerts by the Bower City band if solicitors meet with success tomorrow in their canvass of the business district for funds to defray the cost of the first concert will be given Friday evening if sufficient money is raised. Solicitation tomorrow will be in charge of David Drummond, manager of the band, and Prof. W. T. Thiele, director. That they will meet with a ready response was evident today when merchants who were approached and asked to contribute to financially support the concert.

The Chamber of Commerce today fully approved of the solicitation and issued a letter to Dr. Drummond to be used in the canvass.

ROCKFORDITES DINE AT SOUTH JAMESVILLE

A party of 15 prominent Rockford citizens, including several attorneys, enjoyed a chicken dinner at Auto Inn, South Janesville, at 7 o'clock last evening. The party was given by the proprietor, stated today that Judge Carpenter acted as toastmaster and that a number of talks were given by members of the party. They returned to the Forest City by autos at 10 o'clock.

EMPLOYEES' PICNICS IN ORDER THIS WEEK

Picnics here, picnics there, mostly there—Waverly Beach, Crystal Springs and Charley's Bluff, Lake Koshkonong.

Three large local concerns are planning their annual outings this week. They are the Golden Eagle, Parker Pen, and the Samson Tractor employees.

Nearly 300 attendants are expected by the committee in charge of the Parker Pen picnic, which takes place Thursday at Waverly Beach. A dinner prepared will be served at 11 o'clock. In the afternoon dancing will be enjoyed. The Lakota club orchestra furnishing the music. A complete program of activities is being made by the committee, which will include races, games, and a tug of war. Community singing will be in order.

The committee in charge is made up of J. McDonough, W. Lake, P. Snyder, W. H. Doughty, E. Shoemaker, S. Woodruff, and the Misses Lewis, Bessie Owen, M. Knopp, Betty Gower, May Heinz, and Helen Morrissey.

Employees, their families, and friends have been invited to attend. The Golden Eagle employees will go to Crystal Springs via autos and launchers, Wednesday evening. The store will close at 5 o'clock. A picnic supper will be served to 45 guests. The team will be played, and a tug of war between the two teams is planned.

Many stunts are being planned by the Samson people, Otto Muenchow, who will furnish the amusement for the company.

The Samson people will go up to Charley's Bluff, Lake Koshkonong, tomorrow evening.

This includes the employees of the Janesville Machine company also. The party will leave the city shortly after 10 o'clock. A picnic supper will be served at Charley bluff. About 100 are expected to attend.

DO YOUR SHOES HURT?

How so many women whose work compels them to stand or walk for several hours a day are able to wear the awful shoes they do is a mystery to me. It is doubtful if many men would have the physical strength to stand the strain. Perhaps, however, it is vanity and muscle training rather than natural endurance that enable the so-called weaker sex to do the trick.

A waitress behind one of Milwaukee's busiest lunch counters has a pair of so badly balanced high heeled shoes that the marvel is that she does not sprain her ankles as she rushes back and forth. Her walk looks more like that of a circus performer doing a balancing act on a slack rope than anything else I can compare it with.

Her back and legs must ache frightfully at night, but she probably charges this against the hard work she does rather than the ugly and ridiculous shoes she wears. If anybody, her mother or father especially, had suggested high shoes rather than the job as an indignity as the young Irish girl was who, one day, set a whole class of medical students laughing at their instructor.

This young woman wore a pair of shoes which were obviously far too small. The professor being an observing man said: "Young woman, don't those shoes hurt?"

"No," replied the patient, "it isn't me shoes that hurt, it's me fate that hurt and they're most killin' me."

It is really too bad that some women (and some men) do not have feet which were created in the shape of the shoes they like. But if they had such feet they would doubtless insist upon another shape for their shoes.

TURKS TO WELCOME U. S. MANDATORY WITH OPEN ARMS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS] Paris, June 24.—The report that the United States has been urged to assume the mandate for Constantinople meets with general approval there, writes an agent of the Red Cross in the Turkish capital. It is welcomed as the ideal remedy for an impossible situation, he adds.

"Wherever an American wanders in Constantinople, Turks, Greeks and Armenians impress it upon the visitor that America will be welcomed with open arms, that America will be trusted. At the Turkish foreign office there is open satisfaction in the report that America will come in and 'clean up' the Red Cross man continues."

"The Turk has been quick to appreciate what has been done for his country since the armistice. Everywhere one goes he sees American flags stuck into the bags of rice, of flour and over stacks of canned goods which the street merchants have for sale. The American uniform is not a familiar sight in the streets or shops but wherever an American army officer, Red Cross officer or merchant is seen, the Turkish people are doing their best to cooperate but with what success no one can say."

"The present divided control in Constantinople and the rumors constantly reaching the Turkish capital of dissensions among the allies in Paris are liable to encourage the Turks to believe that by playing one nation off against the other they can conduct themselves as they see fit."

"Parts of northern Asia Minor do not know of the armistice and the Turks are still terrorizing the Greek there."

Turks are surprisingly familiar with the way the American protectorate over Cuba has worked out and prominent Mussulmen believe that what has been done in the Philippines by America can be duplicated in Turkey.

"Howard Heintz, Chicago, has unloaded half a dozen ships laden with food, clothes, shoes and agricultural implements. The American Red Cross also is helping the starving whether they be Greek, Turk or Armenian."

SERVANTS ARE PAID MORE TO LOAF THAN WORK

London.—The servant problem has become universal in Great Britain as a result of government's $6.25 out-of-work-donation. Servants usually were paid only $2.50 a week, protest the housewives. Now instead of working for that amount they can do nothing and draw the money.

In London today it is almost impossible to get servants of any description for the smaller houses. Practically all the servants have been notified of the supply of young servants which they usually have available.

We've Talked Too Much

Perhaps we have talked too much about "saving" and not enough about "earning and spending."

Of course we will have no money for any purpose unless we have the ability to earn it reasonably fast.

And many men earn good salaries who save none of it—because they have no skill as spenders.

We don't preach stinginess. We detest the miser. But the thrifty man wins the respect of all who know him. He makes his money do its duty.

Think it over.

The Daily Gazette Now Offers Wonderful Service FREE to Its Readers

The Janesville Daily Gazette Free Information Bureau at Washington, D. C., furnishes readers free of charge with accurate and authoritative answers to questions on any and all subjects concerning which information can be had from the unparalleled resources of the various federal government departments, the great Library of Congress and the many experts and scientists in the government service at Washington.

‘ ‘ QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ’ ’

It is probably true that more questions from the readers of newspapers to their editors have been answered by Frederic J. Haskin, Director of The Janesville Daily Gazette Information Bureau, just opened in Washington; than by any other man dead or alive. It is his business to answer questions. He is an investigator, writer, traveler, of long experience, is the author of a number of books on the government. He is strategically located at the nation's capital and knows the keys that will open the various storehouses of knowledge that have been built up by the government. He believes that the questions that people ask are the correct index of what they want to know and that the answers to these questions are the best of "copy" for newspapers.

Here are some of the questions that have been answered recently by this bureau that is now at the service of the readers of The Janesville Daily Gazette. What do you think of them

Q. Is it a mark of disrespect to bury the United States flag in the coffin of

Q. Can the United States talk to Europe by wireless telephones?
A. Yes. Not long ago Arlington station, near Washington talked to Eiffel Tower in Paris, and the station at Honolulu overheard the conversation.

Q. What new nations have been created as a result of the war? A. M. B. C. A. Czechoslovakia, Jugoslavia, Poland, Finland and Hedjaz have so far taken form. The three former are republics, the two latter, monarchies.

Q. Is a corpulent person necessarily a heavy eater? S. A. No, too much flesh eats too much food. Fish and fowl are more be built without the materials that create too much food. Fish and fowl are more be built without the materials that create too much food. Fish and fowl are more be built without the materials that create too much food.

Q. What became of the large flock of wild pigeons that formerly lived in this country? E. The North American wild pigeon was exterminated by hunters. What was supposed to be the last survivor of the species died at the Zoological Garden in Cincinnati in 1914. When this country was a part of the world, these pigeons were so numerous that they were more be built without the materials that create too much food. Fish and fowl are more be built without the materials that create too much food.

Q. Yes, there was a Pope in 1844, while King of England, was declared by the Act of Supremacy. "The only supreme head on earth of the Church of England," which was at that time Catholic. There was at the same time a Pope at Rome, but the English did not recognize him.

Q. Why is the Chicago River called the smallest but richest river in the world? A. The Chicago River which is less than a mile in length, is the harbor of Chicago. So the wealth of the water traffic of Chicago is said to be the wealth of the Chicago River, making this stream the smallest and richest of rivers.

Q. What is the definition of eligibility to membership in the American Legion? S. A. P.

A. Any individual who served honorably in the Army or Navy of the United States between the date of our entrance into the war and the signing of the armistice, and who is one of our Allies at any time during the war, is eligible to membership in the American Legion. This includes yeomen (f) and Army and Navy nurses.

Q. Are men who have served in the war given any preference when they want to enter Civil Service? A. Yes, G.

A. Any man may pass a Civil Service examination with a mark of sixty-five, while others must get seventy. He may secure temporary appointment of three months prior to taking examinations. He is given preference in appointment over non-service applicants.

Q. How long has the requirement of a high school education for which has taken vocational training are waived. A. When did the first steamship cross the Atlantic? C. O. B.

A. One hundred years ago on the 22nd day of May of this year, the first steamship, the Savannah, sailed from the port for which it was named, reaching Liverpool twenty-nine days later.

Q. What is the longest of our geographical Indian names? H. G. N.

A. The longest of these names is probably that of Lake Chagagoagogaumchaugogochebunnungamaug. This lake is in Massachusetts and its name has recently been changed to Lake Umbagog. The word is Algonquian and its name has been said to mean "How the south wind made a large water where many blackbirds gathered."

Q. Who were the Druids? H. F. V.

A. The Druids were priests of the ancient Britons, acting also as physicians, educators, astrologers, magicians and lawgivers.

Q. What is a good treatment for inflammation caused by poison ivy? F. D. W.

A. One of the best treatments is bathing with salt water, sea water preferred. Boric acid, one teaspoonful in a glass of hot water, is a good application. The large blisters should be punctured and the contents allowed to run out. Every day or two the inflamed parts should be bathed with warm water, carefully dried without rubbing, and the boric acid treatment resumed.

Q. What is the longest canal in the world? F. F. V.

A. The Grand Canal of China. This canal is one thousand miles long, extending from Hangchow to Peking. It is about 2500 years old, and has become partially filled with mud from the heavy silt carried down by the river, but is still a busy waterway. It is now to be dredged and improved by American engineers.

Q. What is the origin of the gypsies? E. M.

A. The gypsies of today throughout the world are the descendants of a nomadic tribe of Northern India who began their wanderings before the tenth century.

Q. How many stars are there in the heavens? T. S. S.

A. The Naval Observatory says that the best optical means which human genius can devise will detect a billion to a billion and a half stars, and this number is supposed to be close to the total number of existing stars. However, only about 2,500 can be seen even on the clearest, frostiest night, by the naked eye.

Q. How many men by the name of Smith were in the Army? I. T. C.

A. There were 51,000. Second in the list stood the Johnsons, numbering 29,000. There were about 22,500 each of Greens and Joneses, 9,000 Browns and 29,000. There were about 22,500 each of Grechs and Joneses, 8,000 Browns and 29,000 Cohens. There were 74 George Washingtons, 73 Robert E. Lees, and two Abraham Lincolns.

Q. How casualties at the Battle of Argonne-Muse, the dead-engagement of the World War in which Americans participated, compare with the casualties at the deadliest battles of the Civil War? R. G.

A. At Argonne-Muse the casualties were 18.3 per cent of those engaged. At Gettysburg the casualties were 20 per cent, at Murphreeboro, 23 per cent, at Shiloh, 24 per cent, and at Chickamauga, 28 per cent.

Q. How widespread is the use of the Metric System? R. G.

A. The Metric System is used in every civilized country in the world, with the exception of Great Britain and the United States. All the Latin American countries, for instance, use it. It has been officially adopted in China. The American Expeditionary Force found it necessary to use it in France. The war has given impetus to a campaign for its adoption by the United States which is now being vigorously pushed.

Q. What was the greatest number of men in the United States Army during the Civil War? M. C. M.

A. The highest figure reached was 1,050,962 officers and men.

Q. Did the American Red Cross care for the American soldiers wounded in France? R. F. E.

A. No. They were cared for by the Medical Corps of the Army with its own enlisted personnel and nurse corps.

Q. Who originated the Daylight Saving Plan? D. J. G.

A. The idea was suggested by Benjamin Franklin. The modern proposal came from an Englishman, William Willett, in 1917, who published a pamphlet called "Waste of Daylight."

Q. Is it a mark of disrespect to bury the United States flag in the coffin of a civilian? M. P. M.

A. There is no ruling of the war department against burying the flag with either a soldier or a civilian. It is not the custom to bury it with soldiers. An American civilian dying abroad might quite properly have a flag buried with him. The good taste of burying the flag with a civilian who had rendered no special service under it might be questioned.

Q. Who was the inventor of the gas engine motor which drives automobiles and airplanes? E.

A. Charles Selden, in 1872, invented the internal combustion engine which drove the first gas automobile.

Q. Who was the first woman in the United States advocating woman-suffrage? E. V. P.

A. The first woman to make this demand, so far as known, was Mistress Mother Brent, of Maryland, in 1647. She was the heir of Lord Calvert, the founder of Baltimore, and as representation in the legislature of Maryland was based on property, she demanded "place and voice" in that body. Her petition was hotly debated and finally denied.

Q. What is the origin of the name of the city of Paris? L. L. D.

A. In 52 B. C. when Caesar conquered Gallia, Paris was called Gallia, Lutetia (Mud-town). At that time it was inhabited by a Celtic tribe, the Parisii. They burned their town rather than surrender to Caesar, so that General ordered that a new town be built at the same time and he called it after the tribe, Parisii. This was the original form of the present name, Paris.

Q. Who was the first woman in the United States advocating woman suff-circumstances, have a right to decline to prosecute him? W. B.

A. No. His offense is not against you-but against the state. The proper agency to weigh the merits, the facts of a violation of the law to the authorities, you are falling in your duty as a citizen. You are becoming a self-constituted court, a thing which you have no right to do.

Q. What is the governing body of the Christian Science Church? How is its personnel determined? Q. A.

A. The Christian Science Board of Directors is the governing body of the Christian Science Church. The Board fills vacancies in its membership by vote of the remaining members. It was originally appointed by Mrs. Eddy.

Q. What artist is held to be the father of modern sculpture? Q. A.

A. The term has been applied to Michelangelo Buonarroti, who was born in Florence, Italy, in 1564. His greatest works were done in Rome where he founded a school which was altogether dominated by his personality. Some of his famous paintings are in the Vatican at Rome, notably "The Last Judgment" in the Sistine chapel and "David before the king." He was a sculptor, in spite of his ability as a painter, however, it was as a sculptor that he wished to excel.

Nearly everybody has kicking around in the back of his head some question for the answer of which he has groped dazedly for years. Nearly everybody encounters in his daily life the need of information which he cannot get readily. Every such reader of the JAMESVILLE DAILY GAZETTE is urged to send all such questions to its Information Bureau in Washington. Why remain in the dark when the facts are ready for the asking? All queries should be sent to the JAMESVILLE DAILY GAZETTE Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, 1435 U Street, Washington, D. C.

Heart and Home Problems

LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO MRS. THOMPSON, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

Dear Mrs. Thompson: What should be done with a 14-year-old boy inclined to perversity and who has acquired the disgusting habit of sulking when he cannot have his own way?

He is a bright, active boy, tall for his age and has no physical defects so far as we know. I have no such trouble with my three younger children. I have done everything, that is, all but the right thing, I suppose, if I only could know what that is.

Reasoning and coaxing have failed again and again, and so has banishment. To refuse him a ride or any other pleasure has small effect. I am tried of him from his allowance and even resorted to sending him to bed. Nothing seems to cure him, for the same thing will have to be gone through again, sooner or later.

I am sure his moods are not beyond his control, for I notice that his father is around his behavior is better. His perversity and sulky ways gain little sympathy from his father, who has taken him in charge many times, but the results are not lasting. I have resorted to corporal punishment myself, for I do not want my children to obey through fear.

Ought there not to be some better way that I may not have thought of or will he naturally overcome it in a few years? His father is in favor of sending him to some military school, but the boy does not want to go. Would you consider it wise?

Since the boy's father is able to discipline him, there must be something wrong and inconsistent in your words. Probably you make threats without carrying them out. I have made a statement without fulfilling it. When he knows you mean what you say he will be as careful to obey you as his father.

You must not expect a 14-year-old boy to be perfect all the time. He will have to be corrected over and over again, as all boys are. Try not to worry about his small failings. To scold him all the time would tend to make him sulky. Your methods of punishing are correct. Continue to deprive him of his allowance, dessert, rides, etc., and you will have effective results. I would suggest that he receive his allowance only when he has been a cheerful member of the family during the week for which he earns his allowance.

Your husband should co-operate with you and help you out in your punishing. I would not advise military school since the boy is opposed to it, but if nothing else helps, send him.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am 20 and engaged to a girl of 19. I have earned my own living, you might say, for the last five years. I have enough money saved and earn a good salary, yet my parents are still against my marriage only because I am young. As far as I know I cannot get a permit without their consent. Is there any other way or must we wait until I am 21?

We had made our plans without their knowing and have leased and partly furnished a small flat. Having helped with family expenses so long, I had not expected objection. They do not need my help now, but I cannot do or say anything to change their ideas. It puts me in an awkward position for we cannot buy furniture. Could I please ask for your advice?

IN A RUSH.
You cannot marry without the consent of your parents, and so you must wait until they are well along in life. You are of age. The lease can be broken, since you are a minor and cannot legally enter into contracts. I, too, think you are too young to marry.

THIS IS CALLED A SPORTS PROCK

By ELOISE.

When women talk about their satin and georgette sport frocks they do not mean that they actually play golf and tennis in these delicate materials; they mean they wear them when they attend sport events as spectators only. And from the number of such sport costumes purchased in the shops one would think that every woman in the country was an ardent sport fan. There are many women nowadays who never held a tennis racket and who never hike any farther than their front door to the garage and yet these women have more of the so-called sport clothes than they have formal gowns.

Here is a typical sport frock which could never be worn in the strenuous exercises. It is built on sport lines, however, with its long loose smock for a blouse and a straight skirt not too long or too tight. But here its sport qualifications end for the blouse is made of a beautiful quality of white georgette, prettily embroidered in turquoise blue and pink and grass green. The neck is round and plain and the sleeves are bell-shaped. The skirt has a deep hem which is stitched in colors to match the blouse.

An attractive shade hat of floppy braided straw is worn with the frock. It is faced on the top with figured georgette and trimmed with natural looking fruit.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO DR. BRADY, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

MICROBES IN THE ICE.
The extreme low temperature of liquid air (347 degrees below freezing) does not necessarily kill microbes. Water derived from melted glaciers has been shown to contain living infusoria, rotifers and even worms. Some bacteria can grow and multiply at freezing temperature.

Cultures of typhoid bacilli do not give up the last ghost until they have been frozen for about three months. In natural ice, however, most impurities are excluded as the water crystallizes into ice, but sometimes discoloring microbes and even visible masses of foreign matter are found in natural ice. Therefore it is important to protect from pollution any waters from which natural ice is to be harvested, and to see to it that no typhoid carrier or other person capable of spreading infection handles or delivers the ice to the household.

Hutchins and Wheeler reported in the American Journal of the Medical Sciences in 1903 an epidemic of typhoid fever in that the Lawrence State hospital, a few miles below Ogdensburg, N. Y., in which they were able to acquire the water, the milk and other sources, but found in the center of the epidemic. The water was harvested seven months before, dark brown masses which, examined under the microscope, teemed with bacteria, and from which the colorless and the typhoid bacillus were isolated by culture.

In spite of these findings, the evidence in the foregoing case was examined by Hill, another sanitarian, who doubted that the ice had anything to do with the ninety-nine cases of typhoid fever ascribed to it. Hill seems to consider ice a negligible source of disease. I think so myself, but I do not like to drink ice water or anything else with ice in it. Typhoid bacilli are mean, low microbes with little regard for the consensus of public opinion.

Artificial or manufactured ice is made from water which has been boiled or distilled and hence sterilized. If there is a choice, the artificial ice is cleaner and safer than the natural ice which is full of things down to a degree that will delight the sympathies of those who know how impossible it is for anything that person does to be right. His kindest acts have some mean motive behind them. If the possessor of the antipathy can't think of any motive to ascribe he says he feels sure of it. I think so myself.

Why Some Marriages Are Successful.
I sometimes wonder if this making a point of liking things does not sometimes enter into the so-called success of a marriage. (I say "so-called" for I believe any marriage is called successful where the parties stay out of the divorce court and don't. And fault with each other in the neighborhood.)

A certain kind of pride will make a point of liking whatever the mate (he or she) chooses, says or does. I cannot make up my mind whether I think that sort of pride good or bad. It is good because it makes the world run smoothly. It is bad because it is founded on self-deception, and it is part of my creed that "seeing true" is the foundation of all right living. Maybe you can solve this problem for me. Tell me which answer is right?

BRIDE 74, GROOM 69.
Hull, England—Susan Linguist, 74, twice before married, wed John Thompson, 69, whose wife was killed by a Zeppelin raid. The bride was accompanied by a bridesmaid and was given away by a boy aged 13. She said she would hang her new wedding certificate with the other two.

CLEVER SCHEME.
Hubby—These biscuits are smaller than usual, aren't they?
Wife—Yes, I made them smaller so you have less to find fault with.

Boil sugar and hot water till it hairs. Dissolve the cornstarch in a little cold water and stir into the syrup when it is boiled enough. Let cook until cornstarch is clear. Remove from stove and cook a little while. Beat egg whites till stiff, then add slowly to the cold. Flavor with lemon. Serve in glasses, concealing strawberries under each mound of white and trimming the top with berries also.

Spiced Rhubarb.—Two and one-half pounds rhubarb, two pounds sugar, seven-eighths cups vinegar, one teaspoon cinnamon.

Wipe rhubarb, skin and cut stalks in one-inch pieces. Put in preserving kettle, add remaining ingredients, bring to boiling point and let simmer until the consistency of jam is made. Fill jelly glasses with mixture, cool and seal. Rhubarb is not expensive and almost all other fruit is now. So we feel free to have plenty of these inexpensive jams for our porch suppers.

Rhubarb Conserve.—Four pounds rhubarb, five pounds sugar, one pound soaked raisins, one lemon, two oranges, sealing wax. Wash and peel stalks of rhubarb and cut in one-inch pieces. Put in kettle, sprinkle with sugar and raisins and grated rind and juice of oranges and lemon. Mix, cover and let stand one-half hour. Place on stove, bring to boiling point and let simmer 45 minutes, stirring almost constantly. Fill jelly glasses with mixture; cool, seal.

DISCOVERIES.
Salted Peanuts—Salted Peanuts are now taking the place of salted almonds on the most fashionable tables.

They are blanched, buttered and salted in exactly the same way that the almonds are prepared.

To Mend China and Glass.—Melt alum in an old iron spoon over the fire and apply to the broken parts. When dry these articles can be washed in hot water and the cement will hold rigidly.

To Clean Panama Hats.—Use lemon and sulphur. Cut the lemon in half and dip into powdered sulphur. Rub this over the entire hat very thoroughly and place in the sun to dry. The lemon bleaches and the sulphur combined with the acid does the cleaning.

Something New.—Make banana sandwiches for the children's noon meal. Bananas contain nearly the same nourishment as meat and children usually prefer them to meat.

SUITS FOR $12 EACH.

Lynbrook, R. I.—A community sewing club has solved the problem of how to be well dressed and at the same time save money. One member did not want to pay $35 for a dress. She bought the goods, went to the club and made an exact duplicate of the tailor made gown. It cost her $12 and old H. C. of L. received another swat.

WHICH ANSWER IS RIGHT?

"How easy your husband is to please! It must be fun to cook for him!" I once said to a wife in regard to her husband's taste in food. I had met them at a little restaurant where they were taking their meals while some alterations were being made to their kitchen.

But see how tight the biscuits are! The food at the restaurant was far from first class yet the husband seemed always perfectly satisfied.

When his wife complained of disadvantages he would point out advantages in the most cheerful way.

True the meat was more stringy and fatty than one would have chosen, but she how light the biscuits were.

To be sure, one only received five cherries for dessert but think what generous helpings one got of the vegetables, etc., etc.

He was quite charmed with his philosophical attitude. So few men are philosophical about food.

On the contrary. Hence my remark above quoted to his wife.

His wife smiled thoughtfully. "My dear," she said, "on the contrary he is a very difficult man to please at home—quite finical I assure you."

Then why—

He makes a point of liking things. "Simply because having the kitchen fixed over and coming here while it was done was his plan. He has always insisted this was a perfectly good place and that anyone who said it wasn't was fussy. Therefore he makes a point of liking things. You know how that is don't you?"

I did.

And not only as applied to husband but as applied to humanity.

I know how it is when anybody makes a point of liking some person.

Anything that person does is looked at through rose colored glasses.

The worst motives are ascribed to him, and conversely, when a body makes a point of not liking some person—well

from first class yet the husband seemed always perfectly satisfied.

Chicago Grain Review.
Chicago, June 24.—Weakness manifested in the corn market today, largely as a result of opinions that peace had been well discontinued in advance. A sharp setback which had placed in hog quotations tended to diminish the feeling value of corn. On the other hand, the decline in offerings light. Opening prices, which ranged from 1.31 to 1.32, were followed by moderate rallies. Subsequently, however, received notice as an additional bearish factor. Liquidating sales by holders increased and at one time September was down nearly six cents under yesterday's top. The market closed steady at 1.30; September 1.31; and December 1.32.
